SUMMARY

We are looking to hire early career Project Associates to join our Facilitation and Public Involvement Team based in:

- Seattle, WA: One (1) natural resource project support and one (1) built environment project support position.
- Eastern WA (Leavenworth/Wenatchee): One (1) natural resource project support position
- Portland, OR: One (1) position for both natural resources and built environment project support

All positions will provide a wide range of project support for public sector clients as a neutral party consultant.

BACKGROUND

Triangle Associates takes a two-pronged approach towards cultivating informed decisions on the use of natural resources and the impacts of the built environment. On one side of the company, we help public and private agencies provide environmental education services to ensure that future generations have the information they need to make sustainable environmental decisions. On the other, we provide neutral, third-party services to government, private and non-profit leaders to ensure inclusive participation, clear access to information, and durable decision-making for today's natural resource, transportation, and land-use decisions. Founded in 1979, Triangle has been integral in the cultivation of stronger, more durable environmental decisions on some of the most important issues of the last 40 years.

- Our vision is a sustainable planet with engaged communities and leaders.
- Our mission is to foster equitable and informed environmental decision-making.

Diversity, Equity, and Inclusion

Triangle is committed to creating a diverse, equitable, and inclusive workplace. This includes addressing institutional racism and other forms of prejudice. This work is ongoing and continually adjusted to meet the needs of our staff, stakeholders and clients. We value and welcome a diverse array of experiences. We seek employees who think critically about their own cultural lens and can communicate effectively with people of different backgrounds and abilities. An ideal candidate will be committed to providing equitable engagement to our stakeholders, community, and clients. See our commitment statement to DEI on our website here.

Location & Remote Work

We have several positions open for Project Associates and all applicants should be available to travel throughout the Pacific Northwest region, California, Alaska and other western states. Once in-person meetings are allowable under state guidelines and with appropriate Covid-19 precautions, travel to meetings sites throughout the Northwest and western states would be required. As Covid-19 restrictions are lifted, Triangle staff are slowly beginning to return to work in an office location and the Project Associate will be expected to transition to a combined remote and in-person work approach.

RESPONSIBILITIES

- Serve on project teams that are providing support for multi-party collaborative governance, conflict prevention and conflict resolution processes with public sector clients, state and federal agencies, local governments, Tribal sovereigns, utilities, and range of community and stakeholder interests. Successful candidates will be able to demonstrate:
  - Understanding/synthesizing/communicating large amounts of technical/qualitative information regarding natural resource topics and communicate it in organized formats.
  - Strong attention to detail and task tracking, including taking direction verbally and be able to document and reflect accurately.
  - Producing well written meeting summaries after in-person or virtual meetings with clients, stakeholders, community members, or Triangle staff.
  - Leading the set-up, distribution, and live management of remote meeting logistics, conference calls, and webinars, using various applications (i.e., Zoom, Mural, Adobe Connect, WebEx, etc.).
  - Working as an active and proactive team member with the Project Manager and other project team members. This includes leading the set-up, preparation, and site-planning for in-person meetings when in-person meetings are appropriate under state guidelines and using proper Covid-19 precautions.
  - Drafting, editing and sending accurate and well-articulated email communications.
  - Creating graphic products and materials, including fact sheets, frequently asked questions, PowerPoint slide decks, etc.
  - Scheduling and coordinating meeting invitations, logistics, agendas, materials, venues, and IT needs for meetings and events.
  - Tracking project tasks through MS Teams and SharePoint online platforms.
  - Plan travel (post-Covid-19) for projects including reserving hotels, booking flights, trains, or car rentals, tracking receipts and expenses, etc.
  - Provide copy editing and quality assurance/quality control (QA/QC) on all deliverables.
- The Seattle-based built environment staff position should have experience with event coordination, multi-lingual meetings, meeting planning with an environmental justice focus, and knowledge of or connections to the South Seattle community.
- Supporting the project team and the full Facilitation and Public Involvement Team to assess facilitation and stakeholder engagement needs through an integrated approach that connects back through Triangle's DEI lens, and focuses on centering marginalized communities, such as Black, Indigenous, people of color, and/or low-income and rural communities.
- Assisting Project Managers in determining how to meet client and project needs, planning the scope of work for a project, and how to implement the project needs to stay within scope and budget.
- Managing up to the Project Manager and support the project team by proactively communicating about upcoming tasks, deadlines, and issues and be a "thought partner" by proactively considering and communicating project challenges, strategies, and opportunities.

Internal Organizational Duties

- After six months of employment, eligible to participate in Triangle's committees including the Diversity, Equity, and Inclusion Committee, and the Communications Team.
- Facilitate internal meetings as needed such as staff meetings, team meetings and committee meetings to gain experience and receive mentoring.

QUALIFICATIONS

- Bachelor's Degree in natural resource, conflict resolution, planning or related field or equivalent combination of education and facilitation experience. Master's Degree or equivalent experience in a related field is preferred but not required.
- 1 to 3 years' experience working in a professional setting on public involvement, facilitation, communications, stakeholder engagement, community engagement, conflict resolution, and/or mediation.
- Experience working on natural resource topics or built environment with government agencies.
- Experience working directly with Tribal governments is a plus.
- Understanding of federal, tribal, state and local government structures in the U.S.
- Understanding of the topic of collaborative governance and environmental conflict resolution.
- Working both independently and on a team, show creativity, proactive thinking and taking initiative in a wide variety of situations.
- Understanding and experience with working on a team collaboratively and how to maintain a professional attitude with colleagues and clients at all times, including times of stress.
- Maintain a well-organized and detail-oriented approach to completing work tasks and produce high quality work.
- Demonstrated ability to listen carefully to understand, organize and communicate the needs and interest of multiple parties.
- Flexible and accepting of a variety of assignments working with wide range of individuals with different communication styles.
- Demonstrate an interest and desire to grow professionally.
- Proficient in Microsoft Office and other project software systems as needed. Experience with MS Office 365 is a plus.
- Adept at managing multiple priorities and competing deadlines.
- Clear and concise oral and written communication skills; seek clarification when needed.
- Take direction, feedback and constructive criticism from multiple Project Managers and apply successfully to assigned tasks.
- Maintain confidentiality of proprietary information and use discretion and professionalism with sensitive information.
- Ability to provide proof of Covid-19 vaccination.
- Bilingual language skills preferred but not required.
